Felt Over Pope's Condition

Grave Fears that Jubilee Celebration

WAS TOO MUCH FOR THE AGED PONTIFF.

FOREIGN CARDINALS REQUESTED

To Delay Their Departure from Rome. Has Been Growing Weaker Since Last Wednesday.

London, March 6.—A Rome dispatch today says the Pope's health has become so serious that a conclave is deemed necessary. The foreign cardinals in Rome have been requested to delay their departure, according to the dispatch today from Rome.

Rome, March 6.—The fact that the Pope is dangerously ill is admitted from officials in the papal household.

Since Wednesday he has been growing weaker from a complication of diseases which come with old age, combined with an attack of gastric catarrh and a bad cold, gave rise to complications of an alarming nature.

Grave fears are entertained that the excitement of the jubilee celebration would work great inroads upon his already weakened vitality.

The Osservatore Romano, the official Vatican organ, admits that Dr. Lapponi, the Pope's physician, has compelled his patient to remain in bed until he regains strength which was lost by recent overwork, causing great fatigue.

The multitudes of pilgrims gathered here for the jubilee celebration are greatly agitated over the official announcement that all audiences have been cancelled.

Cardinals are here in great numbers from all parts of the world, and have abandoned their intention of returning home and will remain in the event of a possible conclave.

Dr. Lapponi, after his visit yesterday, made official announcement that the Pope's condition was no worse than Wednesday, but refused to discuss the nature of the pontiff's illness. He gave absolute instructions that no one could see the Pope except his nephew, Count Camillo Pecci.

WOMAN

Rode on Axle of Pullman Car and Narrowly Escaped a Horrible Death.

Huntington, W. Va., March 6.—When a C. & O. passenger train, from Cincinnati came into the station this morning, a woman was discovered beneath a Pullman car riding on a board over the axle. She gave her name as Frances Leginee and her home Columbus, Ohio, and said she had ridden in a box car from Columbus to Cincinnati, and that at Cincinnati she boarded the bumpers of a passenger train and was headed for Richmond, Va., her former home. Almost her entire wearing apparel was torn. Her dress had caught about the axle of the car and she saved her life by clinging to a small iron rod.

DECISION

Regarding Election of School Board Members in Newly Made Wards Expected Soon.

Columbus, March 6.—The Supreme Court will soon announce its decision in the proposition whether or not School Board members shall be elected this spring in cities where ward boundaries have been changed.

Yesterday the Court heard arguments in the application for a writ of mandamus in the cases of George B. Winters and Andrew Forsythe against the Republican Central Committee of Steubenville to compel it to place their names on the city ticket for members of the Board of Education. The decision is expected Tuesday and will settle the question of electing members of the School Board in all the cities in Ohio.

P. P. Lewis appeared for the plaintiffs. Attorney General Sheets explained to the Court the reason for his having given the opinion that no elections were to be held this spring for the reason that as the code made no provisions along the line of educational matters any other opinion would throw conditions into a chaotic state.

The attorney for the committee did not agree upon the question of the right of holding elections, but merely contended that the plaintiffs composed a body which was a creature of party and not of statute.

Steubenville is the only city in the state where any objections have been made to the ruling of the Attorney General, and it is said that this action was brought about by a fight which has been waging for a couple of years between the superintendent of schools, teachers and citizens.

KNAPP'S WIFE

WRITES A RAMBLING LETTER FROM INDIANAPOLIS.

Profuse in Love and Faith in the Confessed Strangler a Hamilton, Ohio.

Hamilton, O., March 6.—The preliminary hearing of Alfred Knapp will not take place today or tomorrow owing to the primaries Saturday.

Mayor Bosch and the attorneys for Knapp will fix the date probably for the middle of next week.

Knapp this morning received a letter from his wife, Anna, written on her return from visiting him in jail. She writes a rambling letter and is profuse in her love and faith in him. She says her father will stand by him to the last and that she will probably see him again at the trial. The letter stated that a grocer had refused to furnish her with goods because she has no money and that she will go to work next week to earn a livelihood. The letter is very pathetic throughout.

Clews in Hands of Authorities

But No Arrest Yet Is Made

POLICE SATISFIED AS TO THE GUILTY PERSON

BUT WANT MORE EVIDENCE.

Made Furniture Payment After Burdick Had Been Beaten to Death in His Den.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 6.—"Our case has not been weakened in any way; it has not been strengthened. That I regard as a good sign."

These words, uttered by District Attorney Coatsworth when he left his office after another day of probing in the Burdick murder mystery, summarizes the situation.

The woman suspected to have knowledge of the killing of Burdick is under surveillance and cannot escape.

When the authorities are satisfied that they have sufficient evidence to convict she will be placed under arrest.

Several persons called at the District Attorney's office, but nothing new was learned by the police.

Suspicion now attaches, the police say, to a woman who was in straitened circumstances. She had been closely related financially with Burdick. She had to make a payment on furniture with which she furnished her home. The payment was made after Burdick's murder. The open drawer suggests that this woman being neglected by Burdick for another woman, killed him to secure money and to avenge her jealousy. This woman is also under surveillance.

District Attorney Coatsworth reiterated his statement that he was "satisfied as to who committed the crime." He declined to say whether or not the murderer lived in the Elmwood district, but said it was his belief that only one person was in the "den" when the crime was committed. "There will be no arrest," he added, "until we have sufficient evidence to convict, if we succeed in obtaining that evidence."

"Before final action is taken," he continued, "there will be a thorough, comprehensive, painstaking, rigid review of the entire case from beginning to end. The entire situation will be gone over carefully. After that, action will be taken."

"And that action will be an arrest. It will be an arrest in which we will stake all to win or lose. I am hopeful of winning. In my own mind I am thoroughly convinced as to who committed the crime, but as I have said, our evidence thus far is simply circumstantial. No, I will not say yet whether the person whom I suspect is a man or woman."

Mrs. Seth T. Paine, whose picture was found in Burdick's den, declared in an interview that she knew nothing about that tragedy and that she was at home all that night of the murder. This fact she said she could prove by her servants.

A house in the Elmwood district is being watched day and night. The police decline to say why they are watching the house. For the first time the detectives were withdrawn from the New York Central and other railroad stations. This move is regarded as strong evidence that the police believe they know where the murderer is and that there is no danger of escape. An important fact which the police have known all along, but not made public, is that on the morning when the body of Burdick was discovered the top drawer in a table at the head of the couch where the body lay was open. Little significance was attached to the fact at the time, for the reason that it was almost known at the outset that robbery was not the motive of the crime. But also associated with the facts and circumstances uncovered since then it looms up, the police believe, as a most important clue.

What is more, they claim to have in their possession at the present time a last and strong card, which they have not yet played. The theory of the police is that the suspected woman finding that Burdick's affection had begun to cool and there was talk of his marrying another woman, after securing his divorce, made an appointment with Burdick at his home. On her arrival he conducted her into his cozy corner, where intrusion was least to be feared. The lunch on the table was for her. She remained no one knows how long. His indifference toward her was not concealed, and, awaiting her opportunity, she struck him down and in her frenzy and passion beat out his brains. Then she left. Before leaving she searched the tables for the letters which she had written to him. Finding them she turned out the gas and stole away. In the meantime she had carefully covered the body of her victim with pillows and rugs.

DEPOSITORS

IN ST. LOUIS TURF INVESTMENT CONCERN

Have a Prospect of Securing 25 Per Cent of the Money They Have Invested.

St. Louis, Mo., March 6.—Depositors of the John J. Ryan Turf Investment Company are assured of a prospect of recovering at least 25 per cent in cash of the money invested with a probability of further dividends earned by the new corporation which Ryan declared his intention of forming as soon as the present tangle in the affairs of the concern is straightened out.

U. S. Marshal Morsey, in compliance with an order by Judge Adams of the U. S. District Court in the receivership suit against the Ryan Company, will today take possession of upwards of $240,000 of the company's money now on deposit with trust companies. The marshal will arrange to pay off creditors pro rata. There are about 3,000 investors interested. Judge Adams took under advisement the matter of declaring the defendant an involuntary bankrupt.

Names Gorman as Leader

Honor Conferred Today by Senate Democrats

MR. GORMAN NOT A CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

SO DECLARES A CLOSE FRIEND.

Gentleman From Maryland Has Had Eighteen Years' Experience in the U. S. Senate.

Washington, March 6.—Senator Arthur P. Gorman, of Maryland, was elected chairman of the Democratic caucus today, which position carries with it that of Democratic floor leader in the Senate.

A close friend and colleague of Senator Gorman when questioned this morning said Mr. Gorman had not intention of becoming a candidate for the presidency.

"I see," continued this Democratic Senator, "that Mr. Cockerell's name has been mentioned as the possible choice of the Democratic caucus today. Mr. Cockerell's selection as our leader on the floor is entirely out of the question."

"Mr. Cockerell has voted with the Republicans in recent session more frequently than he has with us. Mr. Gorman is the man, and although he is new to the present Senate it is not forgotten that he had an experience of 18 years as a member of that body, and the mere fact that he has been in retirement for one term will not prevent us from recognizing his ability as a leader and from insisting that he accept the position we intend to offer him."

The Democratic conference today will select a new steering committee and will confirm the appointment of Senator Clark of Montana, as a member of the foreign relations committee in place of Senator Bailey who resigned.

CRUM AGAIN NAMED.

Washington, March 6.—In again sending to the Senate the nomination of the negro, W. D. Crum, to be collector of the port of Charleston, S. C., the President has thrown down a challenge which the Democrats are not slow in picking up.

Senator Tillman announces positively that the Crum nomination never will come to a vote in the Senate. "I myself," said he, "will make the contract, if necessary to talk it to death whenever it is presented and I shall not lack plenty of assistance."

The Democrats in the Senate are much displeased with the President for what they term his dictatorial methods of trying to force unwelcome nominations down the throat of the Senate and they propose to resist by preventing the confirmation of any nominations sent out in the present special session of the Senate.

Callahan-Kennedy.

Strike Commission is Expected

To Make Its Report to the President Soon

MINERS EXPECTED TO WIN ON TWO DEMANDS.

THE CONTENTION OF THE UNION

is to be Sustained on the Main Points Involved in the Case, It is Claimed.

Washington, March 6.—There is good reason to believe that the anthracite coal commission has decided in favor of the miners in two of their important demands.

One of these is that payment to the miners shall be by actual weight. The other is an increase of wages.

The decision as to the method of payment is believed to have been reached after a full conference between the commission and the representatives of the miners and representatives of the operators.

The commission had before it John Mitchell and district presidents of the United Mine Workers of America; Francis T. Gowan, Lehigh Valley railroad; James H. Torrey, D. & H. railroad; Everett Warren, D. L. & W. railway; Temple Iron company, Hillside Coal and Iron company, Pennsylvania Coal company, A. H. McClintock, Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company; John B. Kerr, Scranton Coal company; Samuel Dickson, Ira H. Burdick and H. C. Reynolds, counsel for independent operators.

The question of how much coal shall be paid for is one of the most essential to the miners. The plan by estimate and measurement is so obvious a matter of discretion on the part of the employers that there has been little question that the loss has been to the miners and that it is annually very large.

The argument of the operators on the relative merits of actual weight and measurement or estimate was to the effect that actual measure of weighing was impossible in some cases and generally inconvenient.

The sessions of the commissions today were as secret as every physical precaution could make them.

The session of the commission yesterday was in many respects the most important yet had because it is said the commission found better reason than ever before for the judgment it had arrived at as to the matter of wages and the question of payment by weight.

It is said also that but little now remains for the commission to do but to put its awards in shape and present them to the President.

PUSSY CAT

Entered Crowded Theatre and Drove Out the Audience—Was of the Wrong Species.

Rochester, N. Y., March 6.—The performance of "East Lynne" at the opera house in Clyde did not take place Wednesday night, only a part of the first act being put on. Clyde is one of the prosperous towns of Wayne county, noted for its wealthy citizens, and a fashionably dressed audience, had packed the little theatre by the time the curtain went up. A polecat crept into the foyer, darted by the ticket taker and continued its way unopposed into the orchestra circle. Dazed by the lights, it stopped in the aisle near where a young man of the town was seated with his best girl. The young man foolishly leaned over and stroked "pussy". Inside of two minutes the opera house was empty.

A Fine Engine.

Miles Weakley, a prominent farmer of Wilkins, this county, recently purchased a sixteen-horse power traction engine from the McNamar Machine Works, this city. At the time the purchase was made Mr. Julius Mc-Namar, the proprietor of the works, told him that if the engine did not work as represented or that if he found that the boiler was not a fast stamer, to return it. Mr. Weakley gave the engine a thorough trial, called on Mr. McNamar and told him that he never owned a piece of machinery that pleased him as well as the McNamar engine does. In fact, so pleased was he that he immediately drew a check in favor of Mr. McNamar for the full price of the engine.

TRIUMPHS OF 1902.

Seldom if ever in any one year of the history of the world have so many important events of universal interest taken place. America, England, Germany and France have each participated. The President of the United States welcomed and entertained H.
R. H. Prince Henry of Prussia at the White House, Edward the VII. was crowned King of England and Emperor of India. The German Emperor had his American-built yacht, "Meteor," christened; France had the unveiling of the Rochambeau Statue, and at all functions attending these celebrations Moet & Chandon's Champagne was used exclusively. This is indeed an unparalleled record which is proof positive of the superiority and popularity of the renowned brand of Moet & Chandon White Seal.

SCHOOL QUESTION

Article by One Who is Opposed to Centralization of Schools in Granville Township.

(Communicated.)

"Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth."

Some time ago a petition was circulated among the voters and taxpayers of Granville township for the purpose of securing an opportunity to vote on the proposition to centralize the common schools of that township.
A number signed the petition, not so much because they were in sympathy with the movement, but were willing to allow it to come to a vote. There are others again who very sincerely protest against the proposed change.
And to this end my communication, which was as I thought friendly to the interests of all, and adverse to none, appeared in the columns of your paper.

It is but reasonable to suppose that when our informant took an inventory of stock in store, with which to answer my communication to the Advocate, in regard to the school problem, he found that sarcasm was more plentiful than almost anything else, and took occasion to get rid of certain surplus quantities through the columns of the American Tribune, and thereby make use of an argument commonly resorted to when nothing else is available.

But although as stated in said article that "a little learning is a dangerous thing," I still feel that I may attempt as much as the old woman did, who during the war, went out to meet the great army of Stonewall Jackson with a broom in hand as the only weapon of defense. When laughed at for so doing she gave the answer that she could at least show to which side she belonged.

To those who wish to view this question from a pecuniary standpoint and for fear this article will be as free from figures as our friends was from facts, we will present a few figures.

In the subdistrict in which I live the cost of maintaining our school last year was about $550 for nine months.
To convey this school to Granville will require at least two wagons. No one would make this trip of five miles each day, as some of the scholars live in adjoining townships, for less than $2.50 per day. Any one making the trip during the winter months would consider the above very small wages and would wish many times that he was in a "land hotter than this, where he wouldn't have to shovel snow."

Allowing twenty days for a school month, nine months in the year, we have $500 as the cost of transportation for subdistrict No. 9.

For fear these figures will excite the mental condition of some we will give figures for the nine schools of our township. Allowing that eight of these schools can be taken with one team at a cost of a trifle less than $250 per day we have $4000 for transportation in round numbers; these schools cost last year $3000; the above shows $1000 in favor of the present system to say nothing of the cost of maintaining the centralized schools, and loss of school property; as the present buildings will pay but a small part of the cost of a new building. Some time ago the writer was passing through a county in the western part of this state where a friend called attention to a large brick building of which the walls were beginning to crumble and fall and show signs of neglect. My companion made the remark that this was the work of a trust; that the machinery of this plant had been moved to Chicago, and the result was disastrous to the community.

How long will it be before the same will be true in regard to our school buildings and communities when our school property is vacated and the machinery moved to a more central location? Where will the benefit come in, save to the few who may have it in charge? In the one case we are asking for a special session of Congress to right the wrong. In the other presented a petition to the general assembly of the state making it lawful for the school board to subject the different communities of Granville township to results that will prove more disastrous than some would have us believe.

Again, the parents realize that their children will not be carried to school "on flowery beds of ease." They may be subjected to the misfortunes of incompetent drivers, at the mercy of storms and severe cold weather; small children cannot start home before more advanced ones are out, thus keeping the children from an early hour in the morning until late at night.

When the Boxwell law took effect it practically settled the rural school problem, as the more advanced pupils have the right to attend a higher school with but little or no cost, thus leaving the smaller ones in easy access to their homes.

We desire to thank our friends and prominent educators for the classification of the opposition to theories which they seem to have petted. I do not know to which class I belong, perhaps to the latter.

"Those who through pure cussedness dislike an innovation of any kind in any way."
When our writer, "Granville Township," is taken with another attack of "Cacoethes Scribendi," he will please prove to us that an innovation of this character will be beneficial.

counting the $150 which was in his

EVENTS IN GATLING'S LIFE.

How Famous Gunmaker Came to Invent His Formidable Weapon.

The life of the late Dr. Richard Jordan Gatling, inventor of the Gatling gun, was replete with interesting incidents, says the New York Times. His gun was but one of his inventions.
The inventor of the implement of warfare was one of the mildest and kindest men.

Dr. Gatling himself once wrote how the inspiration for the Gatling gun came to him. He said:

"I was living at Indianapolis, Ind., when the civil war broke out. One day I went down to the Indianapolis depot and saw there eighteen newly arrived boxes containing the bodies of dead soldiers. Around each of them was a little company of mourners. I made inquiries concerning the dead men. Only three of them had been killed by bullets. The rest had died of disease.
They had lain around in unhealthy camps, and the exposure had been just five times as deadly as the enemy's bullets. I made up my mind that something should be done to make war quicker and more decisive. It might kill more men with bullets, but it would save many times more from disease. So I perfected the rapid fire gun."

It was while he was a merchant that Dr. Gatling busied himself with the screw propeller. He afterward invented a machine for sowing rice, which he adapted later to sowing wheat in drills.
In 1844 he moved to St. Louis, and for a year he worked as a clerk in a dry goods store. While so employed he engaged a skillful mechanic to construct several of his sowing machines. In 1845 he gave up everything else and devoted himself entirely to planning and getting out his inventions.

Aside from his ability as an inventor, his friends speak of Dr. Gatling as a student and a philosopher. He studied medicine merely to be able to take care of himself, besides the members of his family. He was led to do that through an incident which brought home the necessity of such a course forcibly to him. He was traveling by boat from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh during the winter of 1845-46, when he contracted the smallpox. The boat was caught in the ice, and for two weeks he had to be on that boat without medical assistance or even the necessities of life. As soon as he was cured of the malady he began the study of medicine, and he was graduated as a physician.

The Recruit and His Wondrous Boots

As a sergeant was bawling out his orders in a barracks in Dublin and watching the line of feet as the new recruits endeavored to obey the word of command, he found to his astonishment that one pair of feet, more noticeable on account of their extra large size, never turned.

Without taking his eyes off those feet the sergeant bawled out a second order:

"About face!"
He could see that all the feet except those he watched turned in obedience.
Rushing up to the owner, a little fellow, he seized him by the shoulder, shouting:

"Why don't you turn with the rest?"
"I did," replied the trembling recruit.

"You did, eh? Well, I watched your feet, and they never moved."
"It's the boots they gave me, sir," said the poor fellow. "They're so large that when I turn my feet turn inside of them."—Dublin News.

SHOT HIMSELF

FRANK NEEL SAID TO BE FROM NEWARK,

But Later It Was Learned His Home is in Cambridge.—A Lovers' Quarrel.

Zanesville, O., March 6.—Frank Neel, a young man who is employed in Senhauser's clothing store, made a desperate attempt at suicide early this morning, sending a pistol bullet into his left breast above the heart. It is thought, however, that he will recover.

Neel went to a masquerade dance Thursday evening with his sweetheart, Sarah Moorehead, and they appeared to enjoy themselves to the utmost. Leaving the young woman he went to his room in Brown's boarding house, and shot himself before removing the sailor suit, which he had worn to the masquerade. He left a note to his roommate, Frank McGrath, telling what disposition should be made of his remains, who should be pallbearers, what preacher should conduct his funeral and the hymns to be sung, but reason for his rash act.

Miss Moorehead absolutely refuses to talk, but it is thought a lover's quarrel was at the bottom of the young man's act.

He is a young man who is highly respected, a church worker, and was considered an exemplary young man.

CAME FROM CAMBRIDGE.

Marshal Vogelmier received a telephone message this morning saying that Neel lived in Newark, but the combined efforts of the police and the Advocate has failed to locate the family and it is thought a mistake was made.

Didn't Patronize Her Father.

A young woman living in a suburban village turned her graceful talent for dancing to account by carrying on the instruction of the young folks in the neighborhood in that art. At the beginning of the term her class was attended by an awkward, overgrown girl who was much in need of such culture. She was the daughter of a local undertaker. After two lessons she discontinued attendance, and one of her acquaintances asked her why she had given up her lessons.

"Well," said she, "Miss Blank never patronizes my father, and so I won't patronize her school."—Philadelphia Ledger.

WOMAN PUT UNDER ARREST AT CINCINNATI.

Rich Cleveland Claims That She is an Adventuress Who Has Been Hounding Him.

Cincinnati, O., March 6.—A pretty, stylishly dressed woman, giving her name as Margaret Howard of Louisville, Ky., was arrested today on complaint of Abraham Newkirk, a wealthy resident of Cleveland, who alleges the woman is an adventuress and has been hounding him. Newkirk, who is 50 years old and has a grown family, darted out of the Grand Hotel at 2 o'clock this morning with the woman at his heels. She was protesting to him when Sergeant Packer encountered them. They were taken to headquarters. Newkirk declared that since last September the woman, who is 31, has hounded him persistently and has had him under control. He says he tried to break away from her but to no avail. Every time she meets him, he said, he is unable to resist her. He said, he is unable to resist her. He at Kelsey, Ky., and that he was introduced to the woman at Princeton, Ky. The cause of the woman's arrest on suspicion today was his claim that she took $35 from beneath his pillow at the hotel. At the police station she offered to return the money, but he refused it. At the house of detention, the money was found in her shoe. The man says she sent threatening letters to his grown children, two sons and two daughters, in Cleveland.

Stelzer to Go East.

Columbus, O., March 6.—J. Hart was advised last night that "Duck" Stelzer would be taken on for a go with Rute Turner before the Stockton (Cal.) Athletic association at some early day. Every arrangement has been made for the contest except the matter of fixing the date. Stelzer will be accompanied to the coast by Walter Potter, champion bantam weight of Ohio, who hopes to get a match with some of the lively Western bantams. Stelzer and Potter have both given good accounts of themselves in recent contests and they go West with a determination to make good.

Rules Against Rowdy Ball.

New York, March 6.—At a meeting of the National league Thursday, stringent resolutions were adopted, which, it is hoped, will do away with rowdism on the ball field.

In a resolution offered by Jas. Hart of Chicago and amended by Mayor Julius Fleischman of Cincinnati, it was unanimously agreed that President Pulliam should be "vested with full and absolute power to maintain order and discipline on the ball field; that he shall have full power to discipline any player or manager for violation of good order upon the ball field, and that this discipline shall be either in a fine or suspension from the grounds of any club."

By an amendment offered by Mayor Fleischmann the clubs are forbidden to pay the fine of any player or to pay salaries to players under suspension.

The meeting adjourned until today, when the session of the league will be brought to a close.

American League Schedule.

New York, March 6.—The American Baseball league held its first annual meeting in New York Thursday, with President Johnson in the chair.

The playing schedule was adopted. The playing season opens on April 20, with Philadelphia at Boston. The teams are scheduled for two games, being Lexington day.

The Eastern clubs will go West first and open on May 11, as follows: Philadelphia at Chicago, Washington at St. Louis, New York at Detroit and Boston at Cleveland.

The Western teams first appear in the East on June 4, with Cleveland in New York, Chicago at Boston, St. Louis at Washington and Detroit at Philadelphia.

The Western teams close the season in the East on September 29, with Detroit in New York, Chicago in Washington, St. Louis in Boston, and Cleveland in Philadelphia. Like the National League schedule, the season consists of 140 games.

The location of the New York grounds was not made public, and it was said that the announcement would be made today. President Johnson said, however, that the deal for the grounds had been completed and that nothing could now defeat the plans of his organization regarding a site on Manhattan island.

We hate to see good friends of ours with coughs and bronchial affections that "hang on" doing nothing for the trouble and taking such chances, when we feel so sure that our VINOL would cure them. VINOL is a safe and certain remedy for all pulmonary troubles. Had Been Carried from Burning Residence.

Coshocton, O., March 6.—David Waring, aged 80, living three miles in the country, was rescued from his burning home yesterday. The old man had been left alone, reading, and had fallen asleep.

The house took fire from a defective flue and was in flames when John Harger, a neighbor, happened to pass.
He tried to get in, but found the door locked. He broke in and succeeded in getting the old man out just as the roof crashed in. Only the family Bible, that the old gentleman had been reading, was saved.

WADE

Protesting His Innocence, Was Sentenced to the Electric Chair by the Court.

Toledo O., March 6.—Judge Charles S. Reed sentenced Albert Wade to death in the electric chair at the Columbus penitentiary, the execution to take place before sunrise on Saturday, June 27. Wade was the coolest man in the court room, and not a muscle twitched while Judge Reed was pronouncing the death sentence, which, if carried out, will avenge the murder of Kate Sullivan. When asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed Wade rose to his feet and in a strong, clear, steady voice said:
"Your Honor, I did not have a fair trial. I had no witnesses and those who were against me swore falsely. I never was at the Sullivan house till I went there with the jury. That's all I have to say."

Judge Reed's voice trembled as he began to pronounce the awful sentence of death, and two women fainted, but Wade's face did not even change color. Judge Reed described the awful crime, the fair trial Wade had had and closed with these words:
"And now, Mr. Wade, I hope and trust you will occupy the remaining days of your life in preparing your soul to meet its Maker."

Governor Nash will be appealed to to commute Wade's sentence to life imprisonment.

Prof. E. W. Curry, the negro educator and orator, founder and president of the Curry school at Urbana, Ohio has been secured by the local Y. M. C. A. to deliver his address on "The Race Problem" at the Men's Meeting in Taylor Hall next Sunday afternoon. Prof. Curry is not only a speaker of rare eloquence, but a man of broad culture and high Christian ideals.

He has delivered this lecture in many churches and Y. M. C. A. throughout the state. At this time when the race question seems to have been newly revived both politically and socially it will be especially interesting and instructive to hear so able a presentation of it as Prof. Curry is said to give.

Y. M. C. A. BALL TEAM.

All members of the Y. M. C. A. who are interested in baseball and in organizing a Y. M. C. A. baseball team are requested to meet in the Y. M. C. A. parlors tomorrow, Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock. ## FIRST REHEARSAL.

The first rehearsal of "Ye Deestreet Skewl" was held last night and parts were assigned to twenty-eight local characters who represent some of the best talent of Newark. Rehearsal will be in progress every night under the direction of Miss Myrtle Randolph and the entertainment promises to be a very successful affair.

How a Glass Eye Acts.

A glass eye has never so free a range of movement as the real one, and when the owner turns his eyes strongly in any direction the glass eye lags behind the other, so producing a squint. Then the pupil of the glass eye is of course of a fixed size, while the natural pupil dilates and contracts not only with varying amounts of light, but with varying emotions. Then again the white of the eye varies in tint greatly from day to day, being slightly bloodshot during headaches and yellow during bilious attacks. The differences in color between the two eyes caused by these changes are even more easily noticed than the differences in the pupils.

The Camel's Bite.

The camel alone of all ruminants has incisor teeth in the upper jaw, which, with the peculiar structure of his other teeth, make his bite, the animal's first and main defense, most formidable. The skeleton of the camel is full of proofs of design. Notice, for example, the arched backbone, constructed in such a way as to sustain the greatest weight in proportion to the span of the supports. A strong camel can bear a thousand pounds weight, although the usual load in Yemen is not more than 800 pounds.

There are 144,000 Normans in the United States.

Take any single one of the ten firms pictured between February 24 and March 6 and write 100 words or less (no more than 100 words) about said firm. The 100 word composition may be a description of the store, a short story of the business firm, or in fact anything the writer chooses to say about any one of the firms portrayed in the rebuses, but the composition must not exceed 100 words in length. It may be as much less than 100 words as the contestant desires.

This contest is open to all boys and girls who are 15 years of age or under. The judges will consider a contestant 15 until he or she shall have passed his or her 16th birthday anniversary.

To the boy or girl whose solutions of the ten rebuses are nearest correct and whose 100 word composition is best the Advocate will give a prize of $5.00.

To the second best $3.

To the third best $2.

Solutions together with the compositions must be mailed or sent to the Advocate Rebus Editor not later than Saturday, March 14, at 7 p. m. Three competent judges will award the prizes.

First the rebuses must be correctly solved; then the judges in passing on the merits of the 100 words articles, will consider spelling, writing, grammar, punctuation, composition and neatness.

Judges will take contestant's age into consideration, so the younger children will have as good an opportunity to win the prizes as the older boys and girls.

Checks will be mailed to the prize winners as soon after March 14 as the judges can reach a decision.

Caused by Child Who Pushed a Bean Up Its Nose; but It Was Easily Extracted.

The infant daughter of Mr. George Tenize, foreman at the Swisher Cigar factory, while engaged at play at her home on Thursday afternoon, was so unfortunate as to get a large bean fastened in her nose. Physicians were hurriedly sent for, but while waiting for them one of the women had the presence of mind to insert a hair pin in the child's nose and succeeded in extracting the bean.
